Two Full-Time Faculty Positions (at all ranks)

The Faculty of Social Sciences comprises nine departments, schools and institutes, which offer undergraduate, Master's and doctoral programs in both English and French. With its 10,000 students, 260 full-time professors, and wide array of programs and research centres, the Faculty of Social Sciences plays a key role at the heart of the University of Ottawa. Its graduate students are supervised by excellent researchers and undertake cutting-edge research in the Faculty's Master's and Ph.D. programs.

The School of Political Studies at the University of Ottawa is accepting applications for two (2) tenure-track positions.

Priority will be given to candidates who can demonstrate expertise and a strong research and publication record in one of the following the areas:

1. Quantitative methods ****
2. American Politics

 Candidates in all fields in political science are encouraged to apply. The ability to teach in French in the first year of hiring will be considered as an asset.

DUTIES

- Conducting research and publishing activities
- Teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels
- Supervising Master's and Ph.D. candidates
- Participating in the University's academic and administrative activities
- Other activities as specified in the collective agreement

QUALIFICATIONS

- Hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (candidates who are close to completing a Ph.D. could be considered);
- Demonstrate excellence in teaching and research;
- Possess a strong publication and research track record.

BILINGUALISM

The University of Ottawa is a bilingual institution and all professors in the Faculty of Social Sciences must be actively bilingual to obtain tenure. The University of Ottawa offers second-language training to staff members and their spouses.
